Choosing which game to go*

*Dialogue 2:
Persuading someone to come along*

*Dialogue 3:
Deciding what game to see on TV*

*Dialogue 4:
Choosing which stadium to go*

Dialogue 1: Choosing which football match to go

A: Tomorrow is Super Saturday. Let's go to a football game.

B: That's a great idea.

A: Arsenal is hosting Liverpool this week.

B: Arsenal? I'm not going there. Chelsea is playing at home this week.

A: I didn't know that you were a big fan of Chelsea.

B: Actually, I'm not a big fan. I just live near their stadium.

A: Then let's go see Manchester United. I really need to see this one.

B: Okay. You win.

Dialogue 2: Persuading someone to come along

A: What are you doing this weekend?

B: I had nothing planned. Why?

A: Don't you feel like going to a soccer game?

B: Soccer game? Why? Is it a big game?

A: It's the hottest match of the year!
Manchester United versus Chelsea.

B: I'm not really a big fan of the sport, you know.

A: Come on. Give it a try. It's the rivalry match! It will be fun!

B: OK. Just this weekend.

Dialogue 3: Deciding what game to see on TV

A: Come home early. Tonights the triple header night!

B: Tonight? It's tonight? Triple header is tonight?

A: Three straight games of football. From evening to dawn.

B: I don't think I can watch all three games.

A: Alright. Pick a game. And we'll see that one together.

B: That's tough. What do you think would be most fun?

A: The second match. It's Korea against Japan.

B: OK. Then, that it is.

Dialogue 4: Choosing which stadium to go

A: What a day! Let's go see a soccer game.

B: Fine with me. Do you have any game in mind?

A: No. Just any game is fine with me.

B: Well, same here. Let's see where the closest stadium is.

A: Stamford Bridge is the closest one.

B: Alas! They don't have a game today.

A: There's a match at White Hart Lane. Let's go there.

B: What are you waiting for? Let's go!

1) coliseum or arena

2) convince

3) contest

4) against
